Letters of Welcome

Ultimate Players and Fans,

Welcome to the 1994 UPA College National Championship, THE Ultimate tournament to attend. The top 10 women's and top 12 open teams, approximately 400 players, from around the nation are here in Baton Rouge to compete for the title.

College Ultimate is the most exciting division both to watch and play in, because of its maintained level of spirit of the game, the underlying principle of the game. The player's responsibility to stay within the rules and referee themselves is at the heart of the game, and I know it will continue here.

Last year, as the Tournament Director for College Nationals, I enjoyed watching this top notch play. And now, as National College Director, I am even more excited to help the sport grow while enjoying the competition.

And Baton Rouge has welcomed the Ultimate community with open arms and is extending to us their legendary hospitality. So let John Malone and Chris Broders, the tournament directors, and their staff know how much you appreciate all their hard work and planning.

Good luck to all the players in attaining both the Championship and the Spirit Award.

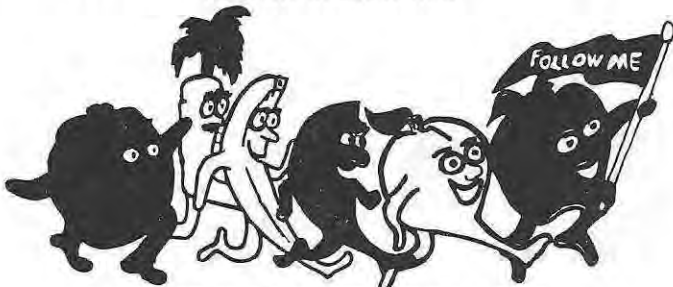

Ultimately,
Jay Cohen
UPA National College Director

MESSAGE FROM THE WOMEN'S NATIONAL DIRECTOR

Welcome to Baton Rouge, Louisiana and the 1994 Collegiate Nationals Championships! Congratulations to all the teams that have qualified. Your hard work and determination has earned you the right to play for this championship. Here is your chance to prove yourself against the best in the country and challenge yourself even further. For the last three years College Nationals has been a highlight of my Ultimate year as I get to witness the future the future of women's Ultimate. The level of competition at this event has increased over the years while the spirit of the game has remained a staple. As women's college players, your inspirational energy is a model for the rest of the Ultimate community. Get psyched to play hard and have fun!

Marie Hartley
