○ WELCOME!

Yippe-iiii-ooohh! The UPA College Championships is upon us. If your heart is not racing and butterflies are not fluttering in your stomach, you may be in need of some serious medical attention, please see the directions to the hospital (p. 6).

This is the second straight year the disc community in Corvallis has hosted a UPA championship. Last year, at the UPA High School Championships, the Spirit of the Game Gods looked favorably upon us. They sent a bald eagle and an osprey to battle over a fish (or was it a disc?) as the birds of prey flew above our ultimate fields. Their clash was the inspiration for this year's tournament logo. With the wacky ultimate weather we have been experiencing on the West Coast this year (rained out tourneys in California, while a threat of drought spread through Oregon), we are praying that the Ultimate Gods will provide us with warm sunny days and soft cushy fields. Most of all, we are hoping for spirited ultimate.

We should also mention that Oregon owns a little Callahan history. Henry Callahan lived just down the road from Corvallis and played with and against some of our more experienced local volunteers. Additionally, the winner of the first ever Callahan award in the Open Division was Keith "the Cleaner" Monohan from Oregon State. Local ultimate historians will note Keith's Callahan campaign, fueled by his publicist, John "D" Fenske, shows the utility of web publicity from the beginning. (Try Googling "Keith the Cleaner.")

Finally, the forefathers of ultimate immortalized the phrase "Flat Flip Flies Straight, Tilt to Turn, Invent Games" by etching the words into their earliest disc molds. We live by these words. May your forehands fly flat, your hammers turn over, and—most importantly—join us on Saturday night as we host the "Crazy Reindeer Game World Championship Tournament." Guaranteed fun for all.

Our Local Organizing Committee would like to congratulate all the teams who qualified, thank all the volunteers and supporters, and welcome everyone to the 2005 UPA College Championships. Enjoy!

Brett "Redd" Morrisette – Did pretty much everything to organize this event, so don't upset the Wookiee

Jay "Big Daddy" Sexton – Probably did way more than Redd but he still is as happy & friendly as a puppy

Nate "Thumper" Kravitz – Thinking of numerous ways to spend two million dollars

Nick "the Gnome" Allen – Webmaster and hot one

Lora "the Legal Eagle" – Our sole voice of reason, and volunteer coordinator

Aaron "Side Show" Richards – Totally foxy in tight, threadbare t-shirts

Mike "Buddy" Bluhm – Found everyone a place to sleep, even though he no longer sleeps here

Jesse "Russ" Mitchell – Kept our meetings focused on track & field

James "Rockstar" Scott – Party! Party! Party

"Team of Tims" Martin – Our deep, deep undercover man in the field

Kenny "the Ent" Faase – Maybe a little too focused on Crazy Reindeer Games

COMPETITION RULES ○ ○ ○ ○ ○

- All games to 15, win by two, cap at 17.
- Half-time is 10 minutes.
- Each team has two timeouts per half.
- Regardless of how many timeouts a team has used before overtime, during overtime each team has one timeout.
- Overtime: A game is in overtime if tied at one point less than original game total, and the winning score will exceed said game total. (E.g. In a game to 15 goals, overtime occurs when the score reaches 14-14 and the minimum winning score is determined to be 16.)
- Time-cap goes on at end of round time on schedule. Add two points to higher score after first score after time-cap. Play to that total—no more win by two.
- The time-cap does not affect timeouts.

○ SPIRIT AWARDS

Ultimate has traditionally relied upon a spirit of sportsmanship which places the responsibility for fair play on the player himself. Highly competitive play is encouraged, but never at the expense of the bond of mutual respect between players, adherence to the agreed-upon rules of the game, or the basic joy of play.

- UPA 10th Edition Rules of Ultimate

Team Awards - Following every game, each team will be asked to rate its opponent on a scale of 1-5, with 5 being the rating for the highest level of sportsmanship. These ratings will be averaged and the team in each division with the highest rating will be awarded the Team Spirit Award after their division's finals.

Individual Awards - Teams will each be asked to nominate a player from their own team who they feel displays the highest level of spirit. The definition of spirit is up to each team, but should include elements of sportsmanship, leadership, perseverance, fire, etc. Choose the person whose attitude you wish other people on your team would emulate and who other players off your team admire. Individual spirit winners will receive a medal, a Spirit of the Game disc (courtesy of Discraft), and a T-shirt and hat (courtesy of CSTV). Thanks to Discraft and CSTV for their support of Ultimate and Spirit of the Game™.

Team History: "In case you didn't know," Calvin said, "the fate of the world depends on Disco's College Championships appearance in 2014. Through a strange and twisted series of events that are put into motion by Disco, war is replaced by roche-ing and international law becomes governed by SOTG. I know it must sound ridiculous, but really it is quite lovely."

"So we need defense number six to understand how it made disco great," Greg concluded. "So can you guys help us?"

The seniors responded "Don't you see? It's not just one defense that makes our team great. It's the way we play, with heart and desire that will make our team great. Disco players have more fire in their hearts than any other team." Greg, Ted, and Calvin thanked the Sr.s, and got on their bicycles. They waved as they began to pedal down Brown Street. Before they reached the doggy park, they disappeared in a flash of light. They arrived back in the year 2014 at Ted's house.

"How can we ever thank you, Calvin?" Ted asked as they dismounted from the bicycle.

"Well, you can start by signing autographs for my kids. They're big fans of yours."

"What?" Ted said in disbelief.

"Everyone is. Disco ultimate is the foundation of our society."

"No way," said Greg.

"Yes way, Greg. That's why I was sent to make sure you made it. If you guys didn't make it, it would have been disastrous for life as we know it."

"Whoa," Ted and Greg said in unison. "This has been a most excellent adventure."

- 51 - Mindy Marshall, Fr. 5'8"
- 78 - Samantha Ehrlich, Grad. 5'7"

Team History: After a seven-year hiatus from the UPA College Championships (1996-2002), the Pie Queens have ended their past two seasons as national quarterfinalists. Doubts were raised, however, by the loss of many experienced and talented leaders after '04, as well as the departure of our coach of seven years, Matt Tsang, who was instrumental to building the program to the national level. Could the Pie Queens handle these changes?

At the start of the spring season in January, we decided that our expectations weren't going to be any lower, and we were determined to fight our way out of the Northwest region for the third year in a row. The rainiest bay area winter in recent memory gave us the chance to get creative with our practice strategies and team development—who needs a field when you can share the high school's turf with 100 teenage runners and two lacrosse teams? And what do you do when Prez Day is rapidly approaching and Biblical downpours keep the fields closed for three weeks straight? Well, if you're a Pie Queen you go to the dorms to rehearse elaborate choreographed dances, of course.

We spent the entire season steadily improving and finding our groove, and five months of sprint workouts, practices on tee-ball outfields and more lunges than we thought humanly possible have culminated in a 6-1 record at Northwest Regionals and a trip to Corvallis. The Pie Queens are excited and honored to have the opportunity to compete here once again. Watch out for the A-vert, and don't stop believing.

- 33 - Sara Murray, Jr. 5'5"
- 39 - Sarah Schillaci, Jr. 6'0"
- 77 - Liana Burghardt, So. 5'3"

Team History: Syzygy was founded in 1982 as an intramural Frisbee team. To attend their first tournament ever in 1983 the team rented a van and drove through the night to play three games the following day. From these humble beginnings, Syzygy has emerged as a Midwest ultimate powerhouse consistently winning a bid to the College Championships, with the exception of the 2003 season. Last year was comeback year with Syzygy placing 2nd at the College Championships. This year's team is defined by a unique dancing warm-up, more Boones than every, and team depth and camaraderie.

Team History:

"The Size Of the Fight In the Dog"
 By Kati — 'My Hero' Project
 Mr. Whinaker's 4th grade English class

Earl Boykins was born June 2, 1976 in Cleveland Ohio. Earl was born a very small child and growing up wasn't projected to be very tall. He fought all the obstacles that were thrown at him in his basketball career and he has defied the odds and overcome them all.

Boykins played for Cleveland's Central Catholic High School. He was the leading scorer in the state his Sr. season. Earl went on to play college basketball at Eastern Michigan. His Fr. year he was listed at 5'7" because his coach was ashamed to have such a small guard on his team. Afterwards Earl told his coach that he was going to be the best player he has ever coached, and that's exactly what he did. His best year was his Sr. year when he averaged 25.7 ppg, 2.3 rpg, and 5.5 apg. Boykins was an honorable mention All-American as a Sr., when he finished 2nd in the nation in scoring and All-Mid-American conference first team member as a Jr. and a Sr.. Earl entered the 1998-1999 NBA draft expecting to be a first round pick—yet he wasn't even drafted!!

After years of playing with many teams, Earl Boykins signed with the Denver Nuggets for the 2003-2004 Season. He is an energetic player providing energy on and off the bench and on both offense and defense. He is the NBA's leading scorer off the bench yet is he one of the shortest players in the NBA!! In conclusion, it's not the size of the dog in the fight: but the size of the fight in the dog.

CORNELL

Wild Roses
 Ithaca, N.Y.

- 0 - Kelly Ruggles, Sr. 5'5"
- 1 - Ellie Weyer, Jr. 5'2"
- 3 - Rachel Robinson, Sr. 5'6"

- 24 - Kaitlin Mallouk, Sr. 5'4"
- 25 - Lauren Childs, Grad. 5'6"
- 33 - Hilary Corsun, Jr. 5'9"

Team History: The Cornell Wild Roses was founded in the early 1970s and is one of the oldest college women's teams around. The '04-'05 Roses are a fun and dedicated group of players that have seen a phenomenal year. This success may be attributed to strong team unity that has developed over the last three years. With over half of the team present since the fall of 2002, the current lineup boasts nine graduating members as well as nine Jr.s. This spring they took on their most ambitious schedule yet, completing five tournaments in five weeks, as well as the College Championships. In the Stanford Invitational write-up, it was said that, "Cornell continues to prove itself as a contender." This is the first time they've qualified for the College Championships since 1998, so they are psyched to be playing in Oregon. With strong developing players, the Roses will continue to be national contenders for years to come.

DARTMOUTH

Princess Layout
 Hanover, N.H.
 Coach: Mikey Lee

- 1 - Tiffanie Gallo, Sr. 5'4"
- 2 - Haley Peckett, Sr. 5'2"
- 7 - Liz Middleton, Jr. 5'3"
- 8 - Orsi Kuti, Sr. 5'9"
- 16 - Nora Johnson, Fr. 5'3"
- 21 - Masi Rooke, Fr. 5'7"
- 23 - Brookling Gatewood, Sr. 5'9"
- 26 - Anne Liu, Fr. 5'5"
- 31 - Sarah Markus, So. 5'3"
- 33 - Lorraine Ferron, Sr. 5'6"
- 34 - Ariel Dowling, Sr. 5'7"
- 44 - Aekta Shah, Sr. 5'10"
- 66 - Lakshmi Narayan, Jr. 5'7"
- 98 - Blair BURGEE, So. 5'4"

Team History: Princess Layout is excited to be making her second appearance at the College Championships in two years. Conceived in 1994, Princess has come a long way in her short history, only three years ago she was playing savage during Spring Break, now she has fourteen players who are ready to go all out in every game. In this, her 11th year, Princess Layout took the Northeast Region by storm, decisively taking the 1st seed in the strong region. This season also found Princess Layout becoming more adventurous, venturing outside of her own backyard and playing in tournaments like Presidents' Day and Centex for the first time.

Though she is growing up quickly, Princess Layout still knows how to have fun. She rediscovered her love for playing in the mud during the amazingly rain-ridden winter and spring season. Princess revels in her immaturity; belting Backstreet Boys or The Darkness before games to warm up, taking detours for Taco Bells and Liquor Stores, buminating things... and she is still not quite past the whole "flair" phase. She may be slightly kooky, but that's just how Princess Layout rolls.

WE ARE PSYCHOTIC (woo! woo!)

IOWA

Saucy Nancy
Iowa City, Iowa

- 2 - Sarah Danilson, So. 5'6"
- 5 - Mary Oppold, Sr. 5'6"
- 7 - Cassi Sutherland, Sr. 5'2"
- 9 - Kathleen Costello, Grad. 5'10"
- 11 - Christina Lexa, So. 5'6"
- 12 - Kris Tiedt, Grad. 5'4"
- 13 - Mackenzie Henryson, Sr. 5'9"
- 14 - Miriam Timmer-Hackert, Grad. 5'2"
- 16 - Mika Kiburz, So. 5'3"
- 21 - Jen Brown, Sr. 5'3"
- 37 - Liz Spies, So. 5'8"
- 42 - Tammy Kampfe, Grad. 5'5"
- 44 - Sara Hill, Grad. 5'6"
- 77 - Sheena Williams, Sr. 5'2"
- 99 - Shauna Sliz, Sr. 5'8"

Team History: Iowa's Saucy Nancy is making its third straight appearance at the College Championships and they are coming out hungry. Saucy is returning an experienced core of players and has additional speed and aggression through their rookies. The tricky thing about Saucy is knowing who to guard. Every player can and does make critical plays. The team feeds off the momentum from the rotating all-stars. Saucy has demonstrated that they know how to win, winding down the college season with a 36-2 record and victories at Mardi Gras and Fools Fest, and a third place finish at Centex. After a disappointing performance against Carleton in the Regional final, Iowa is bouncing back with gusto. Working harder, digging deeper, and continuously learning, Saucy has the desire, dedication, skill, and athleticism to finish as a top team this year and we are looking forward to testing ourselves against other elite college teams at the 2005 College Championships!

Team History: What do you get when you throw a bunch of over-worked, under-slept scientists and engineers onto a field? You get one of the top women's ultimate teams in the country. sMItE has been a strong force both in the New England region and nationally since 2001 (trust us, we know our physics). The key to our success has been to out-play opponents not only in our physical game, but in our mental game as well (what other team do you know that has math terminology in their psych-up cheer?). We'll spend as much time working out on the track and in the gym as we will sitting around analyzing the nuances of the sport. Though we may annoy our coaches with our constant questions (so much that we were once told to "stop thinking and just play the *ing game!!!!"), our intense focus, dedication, and persistence on O and D prove that when the games are tight, we'll come out on top not just from playing harder, but also from playing smarter.

This year is the fifth consecutive year sMItE has attended the College Championships (finishing 2nd in 2003 and 5th in 2004). We're psyched for a challenging, spirited tournament. Looking for some help with your math homework on the sidelines? Sure, we can solve those differential equations after we throw a deep huck for the game-winning score.

Team History: Since Gung-Ho was founded seven years ago, we have qualified for the College Championships 13 times, and are "jumping for joy" or discs to be attending our 14th straight Championships. Other than our amazing ever-present presence at the College Championships, Gung-Ho is known for our hot flair, all-Asian lines, double popped collars, entirely too much Under Armour, hot prime teams, and a "special" spirit chicken named Ferguson Kensington III. As a young team, our babysitters really enjoyed Mardi Gras after tucking us into bed. We hosted our own tournament this year, and three teams showed up, challah! We feel most comfortable playing on our very own lakefill at a balmy temperature of 38 degrees. Our winter highlights include stadiums in the snow, abs on the squash quart, mastering the "blond-girl's" high skips on the border of the basketball courts, and a full fifteen minutes per year of weight training. Our luxury accommodations on the road have included a motel featuring a "mysteriously missing" heart-shaped hot tub and a bustling karaoke bar where men with mullets performed "I'm too Sexy (for my wife beater)," a motel next door to the Gold Fox Gentlemen's Club and Waffle House, and most recently a renovated Taco Bell with spacious and "well-appointed" rooms. Donations can be made to the "Our Girl Got Her Teeth Knocked Out Playing Ultimate" Fund.

Team History: Team Brickhouse was formed approximately 10 years ago. Over the past four years, we have gradually improved our game with the help of our Coach in 2002, Beth Lewis, and our Coach of 2005, the one and only Adam Tarr. We've been a competitive team in the past and over the years have acquired many talented players. We have learned to play well as a team and this year have introduced a new offense.

21 - Jackie Pilch, Fr. 5'9"

Team History: Rutgers Shakti is excited to make its second straight College Championships appearance, and its fourth in nine years. Despite losing a lot of experience on an already small team, we have put together five veterans and five talented rookies to form well rounded and cohesive team. We love to have fun, on and off the field, and Corvallis will be no different. Respect.

Team History: Stanford's claim to have made the finals of the UPA College Championships every time it qualified for the tournament no longer holds true after the team lost 15-13 in the semifinals last year to Carleton. This was especially disappointing for the team as it had a large graduating class. Despite some big losses, the team still retains many of its top players, including Callahan runner-up Jennifer Burney as well as captains Lauren Casey and Enessa Janes. Other big returning players include Hannah Griego, Jess Guh, and Alicia Dantzker as the team's top defenders. Stanford also lucked out with its rookie class for 2005. Shirley Wu started grad school at Stanford after leading the Brown women's team for the past four years. The team also picked up two Jr.s players, a new Seattle club player, and several B team veterans to round out the most experienced rookie class in Superfly history. The team takes great pride in this depth and its love of the game. In 2004, Stanford received the team Spirit of the Game Award at the College Championships. It hopes to repeat an equally spirited—and competitive—performance in Corvallis this year.

Team History: When we're not arm-wrestling roller-derby girls and frat boys or hitting up a distant farmhouse for a bonfire and food, mêlée is on Whitaker fields in Austin playing ultimate and running sprint shuttles. Since the team was started in 2000, the University of Texas women's ultimate team has been combining a love of ultimate, hard work, and good times to make us a standout team on the national scene. 2002 marked the first season that mêlée made it to the College Championships and we've made an appearance every year since. In 2003, we surprised everyone by finishing in the 5th-8th on our home fields, and in 2004, we swept the Mardi Gras tournament as well as college sectionals and regionals. We concluded our season with another 5th-8th place finish at the Championships.

For the 2005 season, mêlée brings a confident roster packed with experienced veterans, athletic returnees, and promising rookies. We are motivated by dynamic and creative captains, enthusiastic and smart athletes and intense teamwork. This year we also have the knowledgeable input of coach Scott Berens. Rookies comment on the welcoming nature of the returning players, and veterans are impressed by the commitment and talent of the new members. We enter the tournament anxiously awaiting our next dance-off with UC Berkeley, ready for intense competition on the field, and pumped up to be a part of the tournament again.

Team History: Sky U, founded five years ago, has endured its share of rough times before we became the competitive team we are now. Our history is filled with bizarre occurrences like having all of our clothing stolen out of the washer at the hotel in the middle of the Harvest Moon tournament, to playing savage at regionals. Two years later, after putting a lot of time into recruiting, we have created a team of seasoned veterans and spunky, yes I said spunky, rookies. With a new surge of determination this past year, we played hard and earned a spot on UPA's top 25 after a stellar performance at Mardi Gras. SkyU exudes a combination of persistence, determination, and athleticism that has helped us make it to the College Championships. Being our first appearance at nationals, we hope that our Texas Aggie spirit will help us to show that we are an up and coming team to be "rekoned with" at the tournament.

Team History: After a semifinal exit at the College Championships last spring, Brown is hungry to jump back into the top echelon of play in Corvallis. Graduating six players last year, the 2005 team is a tight bunch of guys that has shown it this year on the field. This season was highlighted by strong performances at the Stanford Invite, Ullimax, Yale Cup, and New England Regionals. Brown asserted its dominance in the latter three tournaments, going undefeated and taking the top bid out of the Northeast. This year's team is stronger and more experienced than last year's squad, a fact that Brown hopes to utilize on its way to a strong showing in Corvallis.

Team History: The UCSD Air Squids have been together for over 15 years and, following a strong showing last year, plan on making a big impact at Nationals in their first year winning the "game to go". The team has always had tremendous talent but none has gelled like the current Squids. A rough season that included rain-inflicted filed closures, tournament cancellations, a month-long suspension and a history of being THAT CLOSE was not enough to stop the Squids.

Mixed showings at Santa Barbara and Pres Day, and a month off that included missing Stanford and being barred from practicing, made spring break in Texas the real beginning of our season. While being screwed again and landing in the C bracket, the Squids pulled together quality wins over several College Championships qualifiers and had gritty games with others. The experience from Centex and Piggyback propelled us into the Series and after two convincing wins over Santa Barbara, onto Corvallis.

Team History: Mamabird has clawed its way to the College Championships for the 8th straight year, qualifying first out of the Southwest region. Coming off the best year in team history in 2004, everyone was concerned about the possibility of a slump. The team's Sr. leadership put the incoming freshmen on notice that lazy play and lack of effort would lead to unending misery on their part.

The 2005 season began with a bang, or a clap of thunder, as Mamabird bumbled its way through a rainy Presidents' Day. Next up was highly respected field of teams at Centex, where Mamabird used a second half rally to scratch past a peaking Florida team. Then an easy win at Kansas Fool's Fest help propel the team to two more tourney wins at Colorado Sectionals and Southwest Regionals.

Team History: Jojah Ultimate was founded in 1982 in the midst of Reaganomics and Quiet Riot. The economy was good, the metal was loud, and Jojah couldn't wait to sink their teeth into a dirty communist ultimate team. It was truly a simpler time. Jojah has had its ups and downs, including players like Deaver, Crawford, Hammond, and some dude nicknamed "the Glove." For most of these washed-up superstars, it's hard to say which ones were the ups and which were the downs.

Throughout our history, Jojah has had notable wins over Kennesaw State University and world hunger. However, the world hunger victory was officially denounced by the UPA for unknown reasons. Unlike years past where Jojah has relied on a group effort, this year we are putting all of our eggs in one basket: we are riding our young superstar's shoulders all the way to a win at the College Championships. That superstar is Boy Wonder, the most anticipated product since New Coke.

Team History: Returning almost the entire team from 2003–2004, and benefiting from an influx of grad students and jump suit-wearing freshmen, the Red Line makes its third trip to the College Championships this year and its first since 2001. The season started off with a soggy trip to San Diego for Presidents Day and a disappointing viewing of Constantine, but picked up with semifinal appearances at Ullimax and Easterns over spring break, and an awesome viewing of Sin City. After making the semis at Yale Cup and then winning the Metro Boston section, Harvard marched through the backdoor bracket at Regionals with five straight wins to take New England's second bid to the College Championships, all under the watchful eye of animatronic Santa.

The offense is potent and the defense is stingy. When both are firing, watch out for the Red Line.

Team History: Strong, resilient, indestructible—these are not words you would not use to describe this year's MagnUM squad. In fact, we are more delicate than a house of cards—and we might just blow away. Instead, we dragged our frail bodies around the field this year and threw a 50-yard hammer on double game point to win the Great Lakes Region—cause that is how we roll.

Our year was filled with non-ultimate related injuries from bikes (3), fire hydrants (2), falling out of beds (1), and taking pictures of girls (1). In between our injuries we managed to win Spring Collegiates, finish in the Quarters at the Queen City Tune-Up and Terminus, and gain valuable experience in both ultimate and syrup chugging at Centex. Thanks to a diet based on eating spaghetti seven days a week, MagnUM hasn't lost a game since the month of March and is looking to continue our streak in Corvallis. We may be weak, but you had better watch out. We are the biggest bunch of sissy cupcakes ever to amount to anything, and we are ready to bring the smack-ada.

Team History: On a pleasant peninsula there lived a Couch. Not a disgusting, stained, loathsome couch, filled with pennies, keys and lost remote controls. It was a docile Couch, and that means comfort. It had lush green cushions and soft armrests. Perfect for afternoon loafing and spooning with skinny blonde girls. The Couch sat peacefully at The Grove, for semesters on end, failing classes, and disobeying city ordinances. Until one morning, the Ultra-Star landed on The Couch. Wanting to no longer be a symbol of laziness or leisure, the disc burned The Couch with a desire to huck, bid, and sky. The disc drew The Couch away from The Grove. Taking it on a journey through rain, mud, grass, and wind. This is how a couch had an adventure, found himself errant, blazing, and causing uproar.

Michigan State Ultimate was started in the late 70s by "Fly," who took the team to a 3rd place finish at Worlds. The team smoldered for some years through the 80s, but was rekindled by Luscious N' Delicious in 2000. Fueled by passion, the Burning Couch continues to inspire Spartans to "Get up, stand up. Never give up the fight."

when a couple of freshmen at the UNC got together with the idea of forming an Ultimate Frisbee team. From these humble beginnings grew one of the region's strongest Ultimate programs. By 1995, Darkside had qualified for its first ever UPA Regional tournament and by 1999 had qualified for its first ever UPA College Championships. In 2000, the team won North Carolina Sectionals and Atlantic Coast Regionals on its way to a quarterfinal finish at the College Championships. In 2001, Darkside qualified once again for the College Championship. However, 2002 and 2003 were down years for the team, finishing 9th and 5th at Atlantic Coast Regionals. The team entered 2004 with high hopes and was led by a 12-man Sr. class. Darkside had arguably its best regular season performance ever, finishing 35-5 with three tournament victories and one second place. The post-season was not as kind to the team. After its second North Carolina Sectionals Championship, Darkside finished 4th at Atlantic Coast Regionals, failing to qualify for the College Championships for the third year in a row. For its 2005 season, Darkside returned nine veterans to add to a class of 11 rookies, including eight freshmen. Not expected to contend for one of the two bids out of the Atlantic Coast, the team improved throughout the year and won its second consecutive Carolina Sectional Championship en route to claiming the second bid to Corvallis from the Atlantic Coast.

Team History: The history of the University of Pittsburgh Ultimate team is not very long. The team was founded in 1998 as just a group of guys having fun. Though a lot has changed in the seven seasons since then, we are still just a group of guys having fun.

From Pitt's first UPA College Series in 1999 to 2002, we finished no higher than fourth in our section. The team was mostly content with this level of performance, rarely traveling outside of the state. This all changed in 2003, as the team dedicated itself to improvement. We attended Mardi Gras in Baton Rouge and made the first of what would become an annual pilgrimage to WUFF Spring Training Camp in Wilmington, NC. Our hard work paid off, and we were rewarded with a trip to Metro East Regionals, where we did not win a game. Last year was a great recruiting year for us. Though we finished a disappointing fifth in our section and did not advance, we laid the groundwork for this season.

Team History: Darkside began in the fall of 1993,

In the Spring 2005 season Pitt has traveled all over the East Coast preparing for the Series. We are proud to represent our university, our city, and the Metro East Region at the UPA College Championships.

Team History: Queen's Mothership has been a dominant force in Canadian University Ultimate, winning two of three national championships in the past three years. Since the spring of 2004, when a devastating loss to Delaware and a subsequent demoralizing loss to George Washington eliminated us from the Metro East Region, the grizzled Queen's veterans have been determined to make the College Championships. Our wide-eyed rookies heard the bitter tale of our defeat, and the team was forged together by a common goal—Corvallis, Oregon. We trained hard in the fall, and although glorious, our victory at Canadian Nationals was merely a stepping stone on the path to Corvallis. During the fierce Canadian winter, we practiced indoors and burned our lungs out running track. As Regionals grew closer, our training became more urgent. Outdoor practices began just after the snow melted, and our training schedule evolved to include running Zone 5 workouts on the sporadic hills of the Canadian Shield. We grew individually and as a team, always holding distant Corvallis in our sights. We beat rival teams Cornell and G-Dub and made it to the finals of Regionals. Pittsburgh got up on us early in the final game, but after a 12-2 run, we had made it. Laughter, tears and shotgunned beers as Corvallis was finally within our reach. Later, as we satiated our hunger with liny White Castle burgers, we wondered if the College Championships tasted like fried onions. This weekend at Corvallis, we will not only taste the west coast air—we will taste victory.

Team History: Bloodthirsty is one of the most successful programs in college ultimate. Stanford won the College Championships in 2002. Dan Maidenberger (Coach since 2003-2004) has crafted this "faceless army" into a band of smart, fast, buttery fighters. The team has always been based on hard man defense and aggressive cutting. Most recently, Stanford surprised the Northwest Region by winning Regionals despite being the 4th seed coming into the weekend. Opponents fear Stanford for numerous reasons, such as our depth, speed, and large calves.

Team History: Texas Ultimate was a powerhouse in the late 80's and early 90's but fell into a state of dormancy in the mid-90's. The arrival of Skip Sewell and an inspired group of youngsters, though, lit the rebirth of competitive ultimate at UT. The program grew steadily each year, emphasizing spirit every step of the way. The squad has come a long way from a traveling team of 10 in 2000, to three teams totaling 55 players this past year. The old guard peaked in '03 at the College Championships, finishing with a loss in the quarters to eventual champion Wisconsin. The youth from those budding years have now grown into the shoes left for them, conquering a Texas section that at the time was the only section with three teams in the top 25, and rolling through an ever-improving South region en route to the College Championships. The team is thirsty to prove themselves on the highest stage and promises to surprise many in Corvallis.

Team History: Washington Ultimate was established in 1989 and has been playing in the college series since the 1994-1995 season. Known back then as the "The Losers" the team has come a long way since those days of "just loving to be there" The team was renamed the "Sundodgers" during the 1998-1999 year after the original mascot of the University of Washington. In 2000, the majority of the team that will attend the 2005 UPA College Championships arrived at the University of Washington. Since then, the building of a national caliber team has been in the works. We have had three amazing coaches cycle through here at the U, with Chris Van Holmes, Barry Ahouse and now coach Brook Martin inventing a system that has changed the UW program. In the 2000-2001 season, UW had a season record of 15-18 and was ranked 46 by the UPA ranking. The next year, with the addition of Pat McCarthy from UC-Santa Cruz, UW managed to compile a 28-13 record and was ranked 14 by the UPA. In 2001 and again in 2002 the UW Ultimate made the Semifinals of Presidents' Day, and that was the turning point for UW. Adding pieces from incoming Fr. and recruiting from local Seattle Ultimate, the UW has established a quality program. This year the UW is 25-7 and has been ranked as high as #7 by the UPA. Looking in on its first Championships appearance, the UW draws on the experience of Jon Ladd, a Club Championship title winner with Shazam, and coaches Brook Martin and Ben Wiggins, both national title winners with Sockeye. No matter what happens over Memorial Day weekend, UW Ultimate has been changed forever.

Team History: The Wisconsin Hodags started the year with a bang, winning Mardi Gras for the second year in a row. Transfer student and current Sub Zero stud Dan Miller joined Wisconsin in the spring semester and helped the Hodags win the Stanford Invite for the first time in team history. The Hodags took 4th at Centex after a big win over Brown in quarterfinals. The Hodags came together for a week of bonding during Spring Break in South Padre Island, Tex., and were able to beat several College Championships qualifiers at Texas A&M's tournament. After running, lifting, and throwing indoors for five months, the Hodags finally got to practice outdoors in April. A loss in the Regionals finals to rival Carleton left a bitter taste in Wisconsin's mouth. With plenty of big game experience, the Hodags will be ready to make a big title run.

○ 2005 CALLAHAN AWARD

The Callahan Award was established in 1996 by Charles Kerr to recognize the most valuable players in college ultimate. Each year a trophy is presented to the top player in the open and women's divisions who, in the eyes of his or her peers, combines superior athleticism with outstanding sportsmanship, leadership and dedication to the sport. A Callahan Award winner should be the personification of the ideal ultimate player. This year's winners will be announced at the tournament party on Saturday night at the Adair County Park. The award ceremony will begin at 9:00 p.m.
