

The Ultimate Players Association
Mid-Atlantic Regional Championships

1
9
9
4

Chesapeake - Burning Ring of Fire - Rage - Port City Slickers - Anodyne - No Passing Zone - Three Rivers Flow - Black Market Babies - BOWLERS - Have a - Them - LettGo - Local Traffic - King Rat - Club Perry - Spank
Philly Peppers - Lucy - Cape Fearless - Gatts - Carpe Disc - Catshit - Venus - Banishes - Homegrown - Epoxy - Shakti

Fort Belvoir, VA
October 15-16th

Route 1

10

8

6

5

4

3

2

1

9

manhole
cover

7

Tent

Parking Lot

Hello and welcome to the 1994 Ultimate Players Association Mid-Atlantic Regional Championships. Congratulations to the qualifying teams, it takes a great deal of hard work and dedication to excel at Ultimate, and your presence here is a testament to that work.

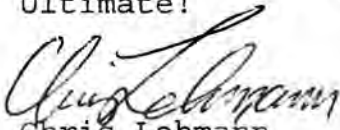

This year has marked a year of great growth in the Mid-Atlantic region as we had record setting numbers in both the open and women's division this fall. I'd like to take a moment to thank the men and women that made a great deal of that growth possible, the Sectional Coordinators. So thanks to Brian, Tina, Matt, AJ, Mary Beth, Jeff and Tammy, the work that you all do is invaluable. And, of course, thanks to Melissa Iwaszko for doing a great job with the Women's Division.

I would hope that all participants would remember that Ultimate is governed by "Spirit of the Game," and having good spirit includes respecting the rules of tournament hosts. So, what follows is a quick list of the rules at Fort Belvoir. They have been very good to the Ultimate community, and I would hope that we respect their wishes.

- 1) All dogs must be on a leash
- 2) Alcohol is permitted, but please use good judgement
- 3) Follow all parking signs, they do ticket and tow.
- 4) Respect the fact that this is a military base.

There will be kegs on the fields for people who wish to stay and watch Ultimate after their playing is through for the weekend, and after play today, take Rt. 1 North past the Beltway to King Street, Alexandria. There are some great places to hang out, eat, drink and be merry. Ask me, or any of the local teams about the hot spots on King Street.

Thanks, and good luck to all teams this weekend. So quit reading this and lace up your cleats. It's Regionals! Let's play some Ultimate!

Chris Lehmann
Mid-Atlantic Regional Coordinator

Chesapeake (Baltimore/Washington) - Perhaps the most stylish team at the tournament, look for the Chesapeake line of athletic wear at your finer clothiers. What were their team dues, anyway?

Burning Ring of Fire (Raleigh, NC) - The defending Regional Champs have had a rough road this fall, but just like the man in black, they are looking for a comeback.

Rage (Philadelphia, PA) - The boys from the "most hostile city" are back and trying to break into Nationals. With the BOWLERS here, will they dare wear last year's jerseys?

Port City Slickers (Wilmington, NC) - National qualifier two years ago, Easterns semifinalist a season ago. But how many will they bring up north this year?

Anodyne (Washington, DC) - noun: something that soothes, calms or comforts. adj.: not likely to offend or arouse tensions. We don't now about that, these guys are looking to give someone fits.

No Passing Zone (Central New Jersey) - One of the longest running names in Ultimate history, they are the last survivors of the New Jersey Zone tradition that started with Glassboro.

Three Rivers Flow (Pittsburgh, PA) - Winners of the Green Eggs and Ham tournament this fall, Flow is out to scramble its opponents this weekend.

Black Market Babies (Greenville, NC) - The ECU Irates lost some players from the defending Collegiate National Championship team. But they're not here just to win the Spirit of the Game Award.

BOWLERS (Washington, DC) - Arose out of the primordial soup of the DC ultimate scene. Will Morty throw a strike or a gutter ball?

Havoc (New Brunswick, NJ) - A new team last spring. The McCoy family (to NPZ's Hatfields) of the New Jersey section tries to bounce back from a sectionals loss to their intrastate rivals.

Them (Philadelphia, PA) - New this fall, the Philly clan will try to establish a reputation... for what, we just don't know.

LetItGo (Pittsburgh, PA) - Another team from the Iron City, they might just "steel" a few victories this weekend.

Local Traffic (Blacksburg, VA) - A psyched team from the land of the Hokies. With a traffic-jam O and road-kill D, these boys took the scenic route to Regionals.

King Rat (Raleigh, NC) - You've known them as Monkey Boy, you've played against them as Triangle. The only team in the region that changes their name more than the DC teams is back.

Club Perry (Philadelphia, PA) - First time Easterns qualifiers in the Spring, they survived Sectionals with only eight players... They are looking to make some noise from the 15th seed.

Spank (State College, PA) - These guys used to be the Unwed Fathers. Now Bruce's children have returned home to play.

Open Division
UPA STANDARD DOUBLE ELIMINATION FORMAT

All Saturday are to 15/17 with exception of games 9,10,11, and 12, which are played to 17/19, and games 17 and 18, which are played to 19/21. The final, game 23, is played to 21/23. All other Sunday games are to 17/19. Teams playing to 15 and 17 receive two time outs per half. Games to 19 and 21 include 3 time outs per half. In point capped games, each team has a total of one TO once entering into overtime. The time cap goes on 15 minutes before the start of the next round on Saturday and 30 minutes before the start of the next round on Sunday.

Philly Peppers (Philadelphia, PA) - After a strong fall season, Philly comes into Regionals ranked #1. Winning the region would prove that the Peppers have been using their Miracle-Gro.

Lucy (Washington, DC) - They found somebody older, but did they find somebody better?

Cape Fearless (Wilmington, NC) - Going where other women's teams fear to tread, many of these women have been to both college and club Nationals. What's next? Masters Division - beware!

Grits (Raleigh, NC) - Grits is back and hungry to avenge a sectionals loss to in-state rivals, Cape Fearless. Grits is fighting for the chance to chow down in Lexington.

Carpe Disc (Washington, DC) - This long-standing DC team has been living for the day that they can make it to Nationals, and this could be their year.

Catshit (Pittsburgh, PA) - Unanimous winners of the strangest name award, Pittsburgh Women's Ultimate is back and hoping to show their opponents a "Fresh Step" this weekend.

Venus (Philadelphia, PA) - The Goddesses of Love are looking to prove that other teams have a serious case of Venus Envy.

Banshees (Baltimore, MD) - They scream, they shout, they always lay out. From Baltimore they hail, looking for the Nationals grail.

Homegrown (Blacksburg, VA) - We assume that the name of the Virginia Tech team means that all their players were born and raised in the Blacksburg area.

Epoxy (Washington, DC) - This first year DC club team has some old and new faces, but they're hoping they'll stick together well enough to make a strong showing at their first Regionals.

Spank (State College, PA) - The women from Penn State are here to dish out their version of corporal punishment. We understand several men's teams have already volunteered.

Shakti (New Brunswick, NJ) - We looked it up, it sounds vaguely sexual, but we still don't know what it means.

William & Mary (Williamsburg, VA) - Their first foray into club regionals, Bill and Mary's excellent adventure continues.

Women's Division
UPA STANDARD ELEVEN TEAM FORMAT

Pool A	Pool B
*****	*****
Philly Peppers	Lucy
Grits	Cape Fearless
Carpe Disc	Catshit
Banshees	Venus
Homegrown	Epoxy
	Shakti

Schedule

Saturday

10:45	12:30	2:30	4:15
*****	*****	*****	*****
A2-A3 [2]	A2-A5 [2]	A1-A2 [2]	A1-A4 [2]
A1-A5 [3]	A3-A4 [3]	B2-B5 [4]	A3-A5 [9]
B2-B4 [5]	B5-B6 [4]	B3-B4 [5]	B4-B6 [5]
B1-B5 [7]	B2-B3 [5]	B1-B6 [9]	B1-B2 [7]
B3-B6 [10]	B1-B4 [7]		B3-B5 [4]

Sunday

9:00	10:45	12:30
A1-A3 [1]	A 2nd- B 3rd [1]	Championship Game [2]
A2-A4 [2]	B 2nd- A 3rd [2]	Winners of 10:45 game [1]
B1-B3 [3]	A4-A5 [4]
B2-B6 [4]		3:00
B4-B5 [5]		National Qualifier [2]

All games are to 15/17 with exception of the National qualifying games which are to 17/19. There are two time outs per half. In point capped games, each team has a total of one TO once entering into overtime. The time cap goes on 15 minutes before the start of the next round.
NOTE: if the 10:45 Sunday game between A4-A5 will determine third seed in the pool, the crossover games and the championship games must be moved to the next rounds.

