Ultimate Frisbee

Ultimate is a fast moving field sport played with a Frisbee disc. The action of the game combines the passing and scoring of football, the cutting and guarding of basketball and the non-stop field movement of soccer. Because Ultimate is a team sport in which each player must act as quarterback, receiver and defender, a large number of participants can be actively involved throughout the course of play.

Ultimate is played on a field similar to a football field, with 25-yard endzones at each end of a field that is 70 yards long by 40 yards wide. Two seven-person teams are on the field at once, with substitutions allowed only between goals.

The object of the game is to pass the disc from teammate to teammate until a pass is caught in the opponent's endzone. Running with the disc is not allowed: upon catching a pass, the player must stop running and establish a pivot foot before attempting the next pass. In the meantime, potential receivers are cutting towards and away from the player with the disc, often running established plays or patterns. The disc may be thrown in any direction and there is no offside. The thrower must throw the disc within ten seconds.

The Spirit of the Game

Demanding athletic competition, such as that found in an Ultimate game, has a positive influence on a person's physical, mental and social development. But, what sets Ultimate apart from all other sports is the priority it places on sportsmanship—the game is characterized by its high regard for mutual respect among players and an absence of referees. The introduction to the Rules of the Game clearly defines this principle, which is referred to as the "Spirit of the Game": Ultimate has traditionally relied upon a spirit of sportsmanship which places the responsibility for fair play on the player himself/herself. Highly competitive play is encouraged but never at the expense of the bond of mutual respect between players, adherence to agreed-upon rules of the game, or the basic joy of play. Protection of these vital elements serves to eliminate adverse conduct from the Ultimate field. Such actions as taunting of opposing players, dangerous aggression, intentional fouling, or other "win-at-all-costs" behavior are contrary to the spirit of the game and must be avoided by all players.

What You Need To Know About:

...the Disc

This year's winning design was submitted by Woody Blackwell of Baton Rouge, Louisiana. Woody is a past Disc-of-the-Year winner and designer of the 1985 UPA National Championship disc. Woody's design is stamped on the new, stiffer, higher profile Wham-O 82 mold discs. Congratulations on yet another job well done.

...the Front Cover

The Santa Barbara Condors celebrate the first half of the "Western Sweep" of the 1985 UPA National Championships, held in Washington, D.C. They outplayed Boston's Animation in the finals. The Condors were later joined in the winners' circle by San Francisco's Flying Circus, who held off New York's Kaboom to take the men's crown. On the Back Cover, Washington's own Mike Hearn has other ideas about the pass headed for Coffee & Donuts' "Fatty." Both covers are by Karl Cook, Ultimate photographer without peer. Page 13 photo by Dennis Cryor.

...the WAFC

Your host for the 1989 UPA National Championships is the Washington Area Frisbee Club (WAFC), which boasts a membership of more than 600 disc enthusiasts. WAFC organizes the largest summer Ultimate league in the U.S., publishes a quarterly newsletter, runs Ultimate tournaments, sponsors frisbee golf and field event tournaments, and promotes disc sports to area elementary and high schools. We also throw a mean party (as we hope you'll find out for yourself on Saturday and Sunday nights at the Pawnshop — see Party information).

Information on how you can join the country's largest urban disc sports club is available at the main tent.

...the Staff

One full year of work went into running this tournament, and the event would not be possible without the help of the Mr. Jack Ross and his staff at the D.C. Department of Recreation, and our friend Mr. Joe Vanier and his staff at the National Park Service. The following WAFC members deserve your thanks for their time and effort: Paul Collinson (WAFC prez), Karl Cook (Art & Design), Cindy Fisher (Advertising Sales), Steve Goodwin (Program, Hotels), Jim Grant (Tournament Director), Kath Lenk (On-Site Director), Michelle McNally (Kath's right hand), John Mulligan (Stadium), Liz Phillips (Party Committee), Larry Schindel (Whatever we needed him to do), Adrienne Simenhoff (Kath's left hand), Eric Simon (Captain's Package, Experience), Wilbur Spicer (Maps), Court Traver (Finance), and Sue Wallace (Secretary, Sergeant of Arms, Party Committee).

In addition, we owe a special debt of gratitude to Bruce Lord, Mark Licata, Todd Groshong, Pete McIlhenny and the other members of our "out-of-town" all-star staff. We'd be nowhere without you and hope that we've used this weekend to spawn good, long friendships.

...the Awards

As is our tradition, trophies will be awarded to the winning teams in the Open and Women's divisions. The trophies will resemble the beauty hoisted by The Condors on the cover of this program. Two other trophies will be awarded in addition to the winners' awards. A trophy will go to the team with the best spirit over the course of the weekend.

On a more sober note, this past May, we lost a great friend in the untimely passing of Pryor Hendrix. In addition to being among the top Frisbee players in the world, Pryor was to be one of the key staff members at this tournament. He had a bottomless supply of energy and the rare ability to make an impression on everyone he met. The fourth, but by no means the last, trophy will be the "Pryor Hendrix Award," and will go to the staff member who best exemplifies Pryor's "the harder we work, the harder we get to party" attitude.

Things to Do...

The following is a listing of things to do and sights to see while in Washington, D.C.

Our Metro subway system is the easiest and cheapest way to get around, with stops all throughout the downtown and suburban areas. The subway, however, closes at midnight, so build that into your evening plans. Taxicabs are relatively inexpensive and quite plentiful in the District. Fares are determined on a "Zone" basis.

The Key Bridge Marriott, the tournament hotel, is 200 yards from the Rosslyn Metro Stop on the Orange Line and the Blue Line.

The Playing Fields—West Potomac Park—are located between the Tidal Basin and the Potomac River. They can be reached from the following Metro stops: Smithsonian (Orange/Blue), Federal Triangle (Orange/Blue), Foggy Bottom (Orange/Blue) and Farragut West (Orange/Blue). Head toward the Washington Monument and Jefferson Memorial. Then proceed toward the river.

• Georgetown: Just a short walk across the Key Bridge from the tournament hotel is Georgetown, D.C.'s oldest neighborhood and world famous shopping district. Every specialty store imaginable and hundreds of restaurants can be found on either M Street or Wisconsin Avenue. Great clothes, toys, food and ice cream are just across the bridge.

• Wilson Boulevard: Just up the hill from the hotel is a strip of ethnic restaurants representing every nationality and cuisine. Ask for directions to Wilson Boulevard at the hotel. It's about a one-minute drive and well worth the trip.

• Smithsonian Institution: The Smithsonian Institution is comprised of 11 different museums and galleries lining the National Capitol Mall. The Air and Space Museum, the world's most popular, is located at Independence and D Streets, and can be reached by taking Metro to the Smithsonian stop on the Orange/Blue lines. Most other Smithsonian buildings—Arts and Industries, Natural History, the Hirshorn Art Museum (8th & Independence)—are located at the same Metro stop.

...And See

● National Geographic Building:

Located on 17th Street between K and L Streets. Daily exhibits taken from the pages of National Geographic magazine are open to the public at no cost. This can be reached by taking Metro to the Farragut North stop on the Red line or the Farragut West stop on the Orange and Blue lines.

● White House: The headquarters for our kinder and gentler nation is located at 16th Street and Pennsylvania Avenue. The best view of the house and its fountains, however, is found on E Street, behind the back yard. The White House is most easily reached by taking Metro to the Farragut West stop on the Orange and Blue lines. Frisbees crossing the fence will be disintegrated by ground-to-air laser cannons hidden in Bush's bushes.

● The Pawnshop: The Pawnshop restaurant is the site of our two tournament parties, Saturday and Sunday nights. It's located at the corner of Moore Street and Lee Highway. Take the Subway to the Rosslyn stop on the Orange/Blue lines and turn left on Moore. The Pawnshop is roughly 100 yards across Lee Highway from the Key Bridge Marriott, the tournament hotel. See the full page map for directions or ask anyone at the hotel how to get there.

● Also Within Walking Distance: The following objects of interest are within walking distance of the fields at West Potomac Park: The National Botanical Gardens are located just before the Capitol on the Mall. The Gardens are open all day Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The Old Executive Office Building is a marvel of Federal-period architecture and is located at the corner of 17th and Pennsylvania, right next door to the White House.

Our Program Advertisers

Please patronize those establishments that were good enough to take out advertising space in this program. Their phone numbers and addresses accompany their ads. If you need to know where these businesses are located, just ask any Washington Area Frisbee Club member. Thank you.

Message From the UPA Director

Welcome Ultimate players, spectators and friends to the 1989 UPA National Ultimate Championships!

It's a pleasure to have you here with us in our nation's capital city. You are a part of the ninth annual UPA National Championship. Over 450 men's and women's teams across the country have participated in this year's national championship series. I'm sure that the Columbia (NJ) High School students who played the first game back in 1968 could not have imagined that the new game they had invented ("...play catch...invent games") would ever grow to its present level!

We have the finest Ultimate teams from around the United States assembled here this weekend. Many of these teams have competed in the National Championships several times before, so I'm sure we'll be seeing the best Ultimate ever. Congratulations to all the teams who have qualified to be here — your very presence is evidence of your skill and hard work. While we can only have one winner in each of the open and women's divisions, you all can be proud of your accomplishments.

Finally, thanks to all of those who have worked so hard to organize this tournament and all of the other qualifying events — sectionals and regionals throughout the country. A special thanks to Jim Grant and all of his Washington, D.C. tournament staff (including the entire 600-member Washington Area Frisbee Club) for all of their hard work during the past full year, and to all the UPA Sectional and Regional Coordinators for their contribution in what is so often a thankless task.

Enjoy yourselves and may the best teams win!

The Competitors

Central Region

Windy City

This gritty squad from Chicago is a two-time UPA National Champion, taking the title in New Orleans in 1983 and again in Houston in 1986. They have qualified for the semi's at Nationals a record six consecutive years, and have consistently displayed one of the game's great offenses.

Amanata

A St. Louis team has appeared in the Nationals every year since the St. Louis Tunas lost in the finals in Austin in 1982. Two years later, they took the title in Santa Barbara. They also qualified for the semi's in 1985 and 1987.

AWOL

This marks the second Nationals appearance for the Chicago/Michigan team. They finished second at the 1986 Nationals playing under the name "Nemeheads". Most of them, however, played on Nemesis, a team which qualified for Nationals in the two intervening years.

South Region

Jaga

This Austin team's appearance here at Nationals means that every year in the 1980's, except for one, the South has been represented by a team from Texas. This team has made a previous appearance as the aptly-named "Splat."

Chain Lightning

Last year's regionals defeat ended a three year consecutive streak of Nationals appearances for the Atlanta team. This year they are back, setting a South record by competing at the Nationals for the fifth time.

Ozone

This year marks Ozone's third straight Southern Regional title. With two appearances in New York, and their regionals in Austin, all within the space of four weeks, Ozone is the most travelled women's team this fall. For them, competing here in D.C. at the Nationals is actually the closest tournament they have travelled to this season.

West Region

Tsunami

This San Francisco bay area team is the defending UPA National Champions. This year they tied a West men's record by winning the region three consecutive years.

Iguanas

It had been six years since anyone outside of San Francisco and Santa Barbara finished in the top two at the West Regionals until this L.A./San Diego team did so two weeks ago. Many of their members played on L.A.'s Polo Club.

Donors

The Donors, based in Oregon, are only the second team outside of California to ever qualify for the Nationals from the Western region. They qualified the hard way, after losing a first round game. It's great to see new faces.

Crush Club

This years' West winners are a team based out of both L.A. and Santa Barbara. The women's team from Santa Barbara, from 1984 to 1987, was the most dominant team in history, winning four straight Nationals titles. Crush Club, by beating the Maniacs in a close regional finals, may be the favored team.

Maniacs

Called Mamba last year, the San Francisco area team returns to the Nationals for the second time. Last year they finished in the semifinals, an extremely strong finish for a team competing in its first Nationals. They, along with Boston's Lady Godiva, are the two women's teams that could win it all despite finishing second in their region.

The Competitors

Northeast Region

Titanic

Titanic continues the legacy of a Boston men's team qualifying for Nationals every year in the 80's. National semifinalists for the last three years, and finalists last year, this Boston squad won the Northeast Region in a thrilling 21-19 final, after finishing second to New York in the two previous years. In all of Titanic's five appearances at Nationals, the only time they have not made the semis (1985, D.C.) was the only other time they won their region. Curious indeed.

New York

In this, their third year, New York's loss in the Northeast finals marks the first time they have not won that region's title. National champs in 1987, and semifinalists in '88, they are sure to be the strongest "second place" team competing. The last two times a team from New York finished second in their region, they made it to the semifinals, including a Nationals second place finish in 1985, also held in D.C.

Earth Atomizers

Boston's Earth Atomizers, seeded sixth in the Northeast regional, beat the third seed, Graffiti from New York, twice in one weekend to finish third. This marks the third time, and second in the last three years, that two men's teams from Boston have qualified. New York (with New York and Graffiti) shares that distinction.

Smithereens

This is the Smithereens third Nationals in the last four years. Last year they had their highest finish ever, making it to the finals before losing to their cross-town Boston rivals, Lady Godiva. This is the second straight year that two women's teams from Boston have qualified, which are the only two times in the history of the women's division.

Lady Godiva

Boston's Lady Godiva, the defending National Champions, are the only team, men's or women's, to make the finals in each of the last two years. This year marks their third straight Nationals appearance, a Northeast women's record. There are four Boston teams here this year, breaking their own record of three set last year.

Mid Atlantic Region

Loony Tunes

Loony Tunes is the first men's team ever to win the Mid-Atlantic region three consecutive years. With each year they win the Regionals more convincingly and come closer to making the Nationals semifinals. In the last two years they finished just a few points shy.

Philmore

Like last year, Philmore came from second place in their sectionals to qualify for Nationals. In between, during August, they won the World Club Championships in Germany. At last year's Nationals, they finished at 3-2, an excellent record for a first year team. They know how to peak at the right time — this is the second straight year they've come out of the loser's bracket of Regionals to advance to Nationals.

Satori

Washington D.C.'s entry into the Nationals, Satori has had one of the best seasons of any team in the country. In their first year, they've won April Fools, Centrals, Easterns, and the New York Invitational while rolling to a 98-7 record. Beware! Their only unavenged loss was to an all-star team in the finals at Boulder. Get 'em home team!

Zephyrs

The Zephyrs are back, last competing at Nationals in 1985, which were also held in D.C. This Philadelphia team is almost entirely different from their '85 team. But, as they did in '85, they qualified from regionals by beating a team in the last round that the Zephyrs had lost to earlier in the same tournament.

The Main Tournament Tent

On the Tidal Basin side of the playing fields will be a large tent, which will serve as tournament headquarters. In addition to First-Aid information, directions to various points of interest, and general tournament information, Frisbee discs and Tee-shirts commemorating the 1989 UPA National Championships will be available.

A large scoreboard will be set up at the main tent to allow participants and spectators to get a quick "snapshot" of the day's action. This scoreboard will be updated frequently.

Each field will also have a scoreboard, which will be operated by a tournament-provided scorekeeper. Working along with each scorekeeper will be a tournament-provided field official, whose job is to make sure each round of play begins and ends promptly at the scheduled times. Please respect these people. They are volunteering their time to make your tournament run as smoothly as possible.

Sports Massage

In keeping with our tradition of firsts, WAFC has invited the Sports Massage Team of the National Capital Area to offer their services to players and spectators.

The Team's tables will be set up next to the Main Tournament Tent, and massage tickets will be available at the Sales Table. They're even offering massage sessions at the hotel, which are available by appointment only.

You've made it this far. You owe it to yourself to indulge in a massage.

WAFC would like to thank Marie Hartley (SMTNCA and WAFC member and Mid-Atlantic South Sectional Coordinator) for putting the whole "massage thing" together.

Champagne Taste On A Pepperoni Budget.

As champagne playfully tickles his nose, Tony expounds on the virtues of Uno's Express Lunch. "It's a magnificent culinary adventure, gentlemen. The personal size pizza boasts tastes that will inspire your palate. It comes with your choice of a robust soup or a small house salad I call 'la petite garden medley.'" Stunned by his newfound eloquence, Tony's friends just let him order.

Uno's Express Lunch. Only $4.50.
