Aloha Ultimate Players,

On behalf of the Hawaii Ultimate League Association and the Honolulu Polo Club, welcome to the 4th Kaimana Klassik Ultimate Tournament. We hope that you play lots of Ultimate, make new friends, enjoy our beautiful island, and have so much fun that you return next year for the 5th!

Seven regulation sized fields await your spirited play on Oahu's scenic windward coast. This is a privately owned field and should be treated with respect, trash your bodies on the field and not the facilities. Say no more.

Mike Rothe is the field director for the tournament. He will need you help in starting the games on time, accepting his decision in the case of disputes, and giving him any lip.

Let's party, play Ultimate, and have a GREAT time in Hawaii!!!

Ultimately yours,

ULTIMATE. WHAT IT IS, STRAIGHT FROM THE NINTH EDITION RULES.

1. Description. Ultimate is a non-contact sport played by two seven player teams. The object of the game is to score goals. The disc may only be moved by passing, as the thrower is not allowed to take any steps. Any time a pass is incomplete, intercepted, knocked down, or contacts an out-of-bounds area, a turnover occurs, resulting in an immediate change of possession of the disc. A goal is scored when a player successfully passes the disc to a teammate in the endzone which that team is attacking.

2. Spirit of the Game. Ultimate has traditionally relied upon a spirit of sportsmanship which places the responsibility for fair play on the player himself. Highly competitive play is encouraged, but never at the expense of the bond of mutual respect between players, adherence to the agreed-upon rules of the game, or the basic joy of play. Protection of these vital elements serves to eliminate adverse conduct from the Ultimate field. Such actions as taunting of opposing players, dangerous aggression, intentional fouling, or other "win at all costs" behavior are contrary to the spirit of the game and must be avoided by all players.

WHY THE "KAIMANA" KLASSIK?

The Kaimana Klassik has grown from an activity struggling to find a playing field into a tournament with a record number of visiting players and the best fields available--those here at Honolulu Polo Club. Historically, the finals and most of the preliminary games of previous Klassiks were held in Kapiolani Park, where local players of the game have been gathering for years. Just across the street from the park is Kaimana Beach, hence the name.

Originally just a dream in the minds of a few players, this event has materialized as a central focus in the direction of H.U.L.A. and Ultimate in Hawaii.

The evolution of the Klassik has been much the same as larger tournaments on the Mainland. In the first year, there were some co-ed teams. The second year saw an exhibition women's game in addition to match-ups of eight co-ed teams. Last year, seven men's teams were complemented by three women's teams. Every year gets bigger and better and we're stoked.

The home team prevailed in the first two Klassiks, but last year saw L.A.'s Gang of Haoles taking the top men's honors. Like a gang, they return this year to defend their title. And Stanford, who would have faced Gang in last year's final but had to leave early to make a flight home, is also back to challenge.

Last year, the local ladies, properly known as "Ultimate Wahines, " took the women's division in what amounted to a rematch with the previously victorious Stanford Women.

In our effort to continually improve the Klassik, we have moved the event to this truly special place on the island of Oahu. We hope you'll agree that we're getting closer to "the Ultimate Hawaii experience."

We welcome all of our returning friends, and the new ones too. Thanks for being here to celebrate the game with us. Get HO and always remember, "Ultimate is more than a sport... it's a lifestyle."

if a ball could dream
it would dream it were a disc sailing gently

in the mid-morning breeze softly bouncing off the breath
of a sea bound gust, an unwitting victim to earth's constant pull.

bodies slam together
limbs lost in a tangle
of confusion.
a swift receiver's ankle turned to pulver under the pestle of a defender's moment of glory

the disc glides across the suns beading rays casting prisms on the starring cast below.
a vague shadow
chases its source in vain

a collision of contenders leaves a thunder of dust
the mighty
thrust their mass skyward, shreds tail off to either side left to bath in the shame of misjudgement.

the victor strains his very being to pick the disc from its lofty flight bringing back the prize to an exhibition of pain and triumph.

excerpt from the "Ultimate Times," Sunday, March 29, 1987.

Whether this is your first trip here or you're returning, it doesn't take long to realize why Hawaii is The Ultimate Playground. Spiritually, the bond begins in the fundamentals. For Hawaii, it's the "spirit of aloha." For ultimate, it's the "spirit of the game." The concepts parallel one another, but the spirit of aloha is broader and one to be reckoned with. Above and beyond the spirit of the game, the aloha spirit engages a respect for the beauty of the land, the sea and the tranquility of life along with the enjoyment of sharing that beauty.

The 4th Kaimana Klassik is privileged to share the aloha spirit with the country community of Waimanalo. Though just a mere twenty miles outside of the thriving metropolis of Honolulu the culture is nearly as different as the scenery. Enjoy and respect the serenity of the mountainside and the power of the ocean that so many city folks from "the other side" seek out.

Practically speaking, Hawaii is the Ultimate playground because even if it rains (and it has) it only makes the game more fun. The warm rain not only offers comfort from the blazing tropical sun it adds a new tactical twist that can turn the tables of victory.

Get into the spirit of aloha, make yourselves known (in the friendly way) to the Waimanalo merchants and share the spirit of Ultimate. You'll find they have plenty of aloha to share.
